Lincoln Beachey, aviator, of Chicago, says he will never fly again, professionally. Beachey holds himself indirectly responsible for the death of several aviators, and gives this as his reason for giving up flying. "I have defied death at every opportunity in the last two years," he said. "I have been a bad influence and the death of a number of young aviators in this country can be traced, I believe to a desire to emulate me in my foolishly daring exploits in the air."

President Wilson will take an active part in framing legislation in the new Congress to the end that proposed bills may be threshed out, and agreed upon before introduction. It is stated that he will include Progressive Republicans among those whom he will call for personal conferences.

Eight thousand five hundred Constitutionalist troops are encamped within striking distance of Agua Prieta and Douglas, Ariz., and rioting is feared on the border. Open revolt and scenes of disorder occurred among the Federal troops defending Agua Prieta.

There is a likelihood that Kentucky will be represented on the tariff making committees at both ends of the caritol with Senator Olie James a member of the finance committee and Representative A. O. Stanley a member of ways and means.

A party of Kentucky bankers, headed by Senator James, will call upon Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo to urge the appointment of John P. Downing, of Georgetown, as Controller of the Currency.

It is stated unofficially that President Gomez, of Cuba, vetoed the amnesty Bill immediately following the receipt of a second peremptory remonstrance from American Minister Beaupre.

Several hundred suffragists attended a meeting in Washington at which the police department of that city was criticised for not preventing disorders attending the suffragists' parade.

An argument has been started as to whether President Wilson is the 27th or 28th president, the argument turning on whether Cleveland should be counted once or twice.

A number of trainmen and postal and express employes were hurt when a northbound L. & N. passenger train left the track at White's Station, near Richmond, Ky.

Springtime weather, with fair skies and normal temperatures, is promised for the coming week to all sections of the country by the Weather Bureau.

Miss Noyes who stood on the steps in Washington, March 4, barefooted and in open flowing robes, typifying the "Liberty of Woman," toed the mark.

The Woodmen of the World are having a big head camp meeting in Henderson this week.

ABOUT FIFTY WERE KILLED

And Many More Injured When Dynamite Exploded On Steamer.

From forty to fifty men were killed and sixty more injured and more than $600,000 of property was destroyed when 300 tons of dynamite on board the steamer Alum Chine exploded in Baltimore harbor Friday, annihilating the vessel and a loading scow. The tug Atlantic was set on fire and many were killed while she was rescuing men. The U. S. Collier Jason, two miles away, was riddled with pieces of the Alum Chine and the shock was felt for a great distance.

ROLL OF DIPLOMATS

Not Yet Completed But Many Places Have Been Decided On.

FARMER IS TO HAVE PLACE

McCombs May Have Almost Anything He Wants From President.

Washington, March 10.—President Wilson has not yet completed his roll of diplomats but announcements are expected within a few days. The President is considering many names and has been sounding prospective candidates through his friends. The situation tonight is about like this:

Richard Olney, of Massachusetts, can be ambassador to Great Britain if he wishes.

Democratic Chairman William F. McCombs can be ambassador to France if he wishes.

T. W. Gregory, a lawyer of Austin, Texas, may be ambassador to Mexico. There is some doubt whether he would accept if he were offered the post.

Charles R. Crane, of Chicago, can go to St. Petersburg or Peking if he desires.

Augustus Thomas, the playwright, probably will be ambassador to France if Mr. McCombs does not except. Otherwise he may be offered the ambassadorship to Germany.

Frederick C. Penfield, of Germantown, Pa., will be ambassador to one of the European courts, probably Russia, Austria or Turkey.

Henry N. Morganthau, of New York, and Thomas Nelson Page are being considered for ambassadorships.

Colonel Thomas Birch, an intimate friend of both the President and Secretary Bryan, is likely to be minister to Belgium.

W. W. Bridge, of Washington, probably will take up one of the legations in Latin-America.

Gossip tonight about assistant secretaries brings foremost the name of John Bassett Moore for first assistant secretary of state.

It is believed that Charles H. Barrett, of Georgia, president of the National Farmers' Association, who was strongly urged for secretary of agriculture, will be associated prominently with Secretary Houston of the agriculture department.

HENDERSON

Was Stirred Up By President and Will Stay In League.

Dr. Frank Bassett, President of the Kitty League, was over at Henderson a few days ago and gave the baseball people a talk that woke them all up as to the necessity of getting busy to remain in the K. I. T. League. His enthusiasm put new life into the crowd that heard him and it was unanimously decided by the lovers of the game to not only retain the franchise but to proceed at once to raise the $2,500 necessary to get into the league for the season. Dr. Bassett is the liveliest President the Kitty League has ever had and baseball will be played as long as he is permitted to have anything to do with it. After he gets through moving things away from home he will return and stir up things here. If he had the choosing of a team for Hopkinsville we would have a good one for the coming season.

Loss of Life And Property.

Thirteen persons were injured, several seriously, when an accumulation of natural gas in the basement of a store at Hot Springs, Ark., exploded and started a fire that destroyed two buildings and did $200,000 damage to property.

Only a few more days and the winners of the six costly prizes to be awarded in the Kentuckian's big piano and diamond contest will be known. Who the six successful contestants will be is as much in doubt to-day as in the beginning of this contest. It all depends upon the efforts of the various contestants between now and the close on Saturday night March 22. Those who are ahead to-day may grow indifferent and lose by not making the proper effort, and those who have the smallest amount of votes today may work with renewed energy during the next few days and out distance the leaders of today. No one can know who will win until the last subscription has been turned in and the last vote counted on the last night.

Will Be Large.

Plant bed burning has been going on in Christian county for some weeks. As to the acreage to be planted this year nothing definite can be obtained, but the prices obtained this season and the constant demand leads one to conclude that the acreage will be greater than it was in 1912.

Three Patients Inoculated.

At a demonstration of what he claims to be a cure for tuberculosis, Dr. Frederick Friedmann inoculated three patients at a clinic in New York.

Arabs Are Executed.

Vienna, March 8.—A dispatch from Constantinople states that fifty Arabs from the army at Gallipoli who refused to obey orders because of the extreme cold have been executed. When the men, who had been brought from Asia Minor, were ordered to the front, they declared they were benumbed by the severe weather.

Allens to Die.

Floyd Allen and his son, Claude, will be executed March 28 for their part in the Hillsville, Va., court murder, Gov. Mann finally refusing to commute the sentence.

BILL HELD UNLAWFUL

Attorney General Says That Confederate Pension Act is Unconstitutional.

CAN'T PAY SPECIAL CLASS.

Wearers of the Gray Will Starve Before They Will Take Money Illegally.

Frankfort, Ky., March 10.—In a written opinion made at the Attorney General's office at the request of State Auditor Bosworth, the KENTUCKY CONFEDERATE PENSION ACT IS DECLARED UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

The auditor had stated that his bondsmen wanted an opinion before he made the payments.

In the opinion given out at the attorney general's office it is stated the payment of funds of the State to any special class of persons, and he volunteers the additional information that those for whom the act was designed WOULD STARVE BEFORE THEY TOOK A CENT OF THE STATE'S MONEY ILLEGALLY.

IN MEXICO

Federal Soldiers at Agua Prieta and Guaymas Meet and Join Revolt.

Douglas, Ariz., March 10.—Encamped within striking distance of several important border towns, the 8,500 constitutionalist troops rested on arms today while insurrections among federal garrisons strengthened materially the rebel forces. No word has come from Nacozari south of here, where a fierce battle waged all yesterday, and it is not known what the result of the encounter has been. The last word received from the besieged city was from the telegraph operator who flashed "too hot for me here," and left his key just before all wires between Douglas and Nacozari were cut.

Open revolt and scenes of disorder have occurred among 250 federal defenders of Agua Prieta, and the military officials there today gave warning to all Americans to leave the town. Today the best citizens of Agua Prieta generally fled to Douglas, while the drunken and rebellious soldiers paraded the streets crying "viva Madero!" "viva Maytorena!" and "viva Diaz!" Brawls between politically estranged companions in arms added to the confusion and terror which held the town in its grip throughout the day.

Desertions among the federal soldiers at Guaymas, the California gulf port held by the federals, were reported here today, and though orders were received by the commander of that garrison to move against Hermosillo with his full force immediately, no move has been made. It is reported that federal officers there are in bitter disagreement, and rioting is expected.

NATIONAL ROADS

To Lead From Washington Into Every State.

Washington, March 8.—That national roads be built connecting Washington with the capitals of every State in the Union was the tenor of a resolution unanimously adopted by the Second National Good Roads Federal Aid Convention at a session held in the Raleigh Hotel today. The resolution further advocates the creation wherever they do not exist of "effective State departments in every State for the construction and maintenance of good roads."

3D. WEEK OF CIRCUIT COURT

Grand Jury Still In Session and Making Investigation.

BIG BATCH OF INDICTMENTS

$26,000 Case Thrown Out and $20,000 Case On Trial.

The most important case to be decided during the remainder of the present six weeks term of Circuit Court was called up for trial yesterday. When court opened yesterday day morning Judge Hanbery said that he had a few cases of minor importance to get rid of and then he would call up for trial the case of McLean College against the Hopkinsville Water Company.

The college was completely destroyed by fire Friday night Feb. 2d, last year. The Directors, in their petition claim that it was on account of the negligence or failure of the Water Company to turn on the pressure of water after the discovery of the fire that prevented the college from being saved, and ask a judgment against the defendants for the sum of $20,000. The plaintiff is represented by Judge C. H. Bush and Trimble & Bell. The defendant is represented by Downer & Russell and Wood & Son.

THROWN OUT OF COURT.

After hearing all the evidence in the case of Edgar Cayce against A. D. Noe for damages the attorneys Saturday made a motion for peremptory instructions to a jury to find for the defendant. Judge Hanbery sent the jury to their room during the argument of the attorneys on the motion. After close of argument the jury were recalled. The court, having thoroughly considered the arguments by the attorneys, had a verdict drawn up and ready for signing when the jury took their seats and one of them was directed to sign it. The verdict was in favor of the defendants, the court holding that diagnosing and charging therefor is practicing medicine as prohibited by statute and the damage claimed by plaintiff is speculative and vending.

For those who are not familiar with the case and heard no part of the evidence, it is due to Mr. Cayce to say that his ability to diagnose beyond the insight of physicians by supernatural vision was not disproved, according to the opinion of many who heard the evidence. His case was thrown out on the ground that he was practicing contrary to the law.

INDICTMENTS.

The grand jury handed in another lot of indictments Friday.

Former Policeman K. H. Keach was indicted for manslaughter in killing Eph Gunn, colored.

C. W. Meriwether, colored, was indicted, charged with assault and battery upon Belle Laprade, the two being teachers in a colored school near the city.

Ed Broadus, one of the negroes who was said to have attempted to rob a grocery keeper near the city last week, was indicted for robbery and malicious shooting.

The other new indictments were against Dick Hill, grand larceny; Monroe Bacon, malicious shooting and wounding and carrying a concealed weapon; George Johnson, grand larceny; Robert King, shooting at without wound.

The names of others indicted cannot be given out until they are brought before the court.

When the time for trial came the defendants filed an amended answer. Plaintiff moved to continue on account of same. Motion sustained and continued generally. Court took recess until this morning.

The cost of the inauguration of
of President Wilson is approximately $73,000.

Simultaneously all of the four Baptist churches in Paducah will conduct a revival meeting, beginning April 20 and continuing indefinitely.

At Spottsville, Ky., 60 miners were shut off last Friday from escape through the main entrance of a coal mine and one was reported dead.

The anti-tipping bill passed the Michigan House by an almost unanimous vote. The bill provides that it shall be unlawful for one person to fee another for a personal service.

More publicity is to be given to cabinet meetings, according to the declaration of the President. The closed door policy heretofore has been very annoying to newspaper men.

The bees are buzzing in the hats
of many of Owensboro's citizens.
The Inquirer of last Friday contained exactly 20 announcements for different offices. The bees have begun to hum pretty lively here, too.

Invitations to attend state and civil affairs have already begun to get common with President Wilson.
Gov. McCreary personally invited him to attend the centennial of the battle of the Thames, to be held in Louisville.

The new Shelby Co. court house,
says the Louisville Times, will cost $100,000 and will be the finest temple of justice in the state. Christian's court house cost about the same figure, but it is said that it was built in the days of graft.

The Hopkins county campaign is going to be a warm number this year. The Earlington Bee of Friday published a list of aspirants for office numbering 23. Nine of them want to be Sheriff, all of them Democrats. The Democratic primary will be "a choice affair" with all of them.

Owensboro is to have a get-together meeting of its business men, to be followed by a dinner, under the auspices of the chamber of commerce. The get-together luncheon by the Metcalfs was probably an inspiration to the business men of Owensboro. And it ought to inspire our own people, too.

The Cause of Rheumatism.

Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy
condition by taking Electric Bitters,
and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver
and stomach trouble and diseased
kidneys, writes: "All remedies
failed until I used Electric Bitters,
but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00.

Humane French Burglars.
Humane burglars broke into the shooting box of M. Lindet, president of the Paris Law society, at Pousse Mousson and after ransacking the place carefully destroyed traps and snares for animals which they found there. On a wall where the traps had been hanging they scrawled the words: "Be kind to animals or else
we will return."

1,000 WOMEN

Who Took Part in Suffragist Parade Are Ill.

A dispatch from Washington says
that scores of women, many of them prominent, are reported to be seriously ill as the result of exposure to the chill wind during the suffragist parade on Monday.

Many of those who took part in the tableaux that were a feature of the demonstration and who danced in their bare feet are reported to be seriously ill.

Miss Noyes and Miss Mary Anderson are declared to be threatened with pneumonia.

It is estimated that out of the 5,000 women who participated in the celebration fully a fifth of them are more or less "under the weather."

Best Known Cough Remedy.

For forty-three years Dr. King's New Discovery has been known throughout the world as the most reliable cough remedy. Over three million bottles were used last year.

Isn't this proof? It will get rid of your cough, or we will refund your money. J. J. Owens, of Allendale, S. C., writes the way hundreds of others have done: "After twenty years, I find that Dr. King's New Discovery is the best remedy for coughs and colds that I have ever used." For coughs or colds and all throat and lung troubles, it has no equal. 50c and $1.00 at All Druggists.

Fata Morgana.
The celebrated Fata Morgana, a presentation of natural "moving pictures" on an immense scale, which is occasionally seen in the Straits of Messina, is explained by a scientific writer as being a mirage, such as frequently occurs in various parts of the world. "In fact," he says, "one may see a mirage any day by looking through the stratum of air overlying
a hot stove, or adjacent to the side of a wall heated in the sunshine." Young scientists will be interested in verifing this statement.

New England's Advantage.
Here is how the spirits of the wise sit in the clouds and mock us. "Even at the risk of arousing western prejudice, I maintain that New England and all broken, hilly, rocky countries
have a decided advantage over regions of great fertility, in that human stupidity and mole-eyed greed can never wholly divest them of forests—
that their sterile crags and steep ac-clivities must mainly be left to wood forever."—Horace Greeley.

Are You Constipated?

If so, get a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills, take them regularly and your trouble will quickly disappear.
They will stimulate the liver, improve your digestion and get rid of all the poisons from your system.
They will surely get you well again.

There was once a wise woman who realized the possibilities of health for her husband and children at the family table.

She had learned by experience that pleasant conversation should wait on digestion, just as good digestion on appetite. Nutritious food she provided in variety day after day, but she went further than that. She made it a point that meal time should be hours
of refreshment even more for the mind
than the body.

Robert Louis Stevenson recognized humor to be a saving grace in that beautiful morning prayer of his.
"Help us," he says, "to perform the petty round of irritating duties and concerns with laughter and kind faces,
to go blithely on the business of the day; to let cheerfulness abound with industry."

So the wise woman had every painful topic promptly dismissed at her
board, and business cares and burdens were not so much as hinted at. Bright and gay talk only was cultivated by common consent.

The children were never scolded nor
the father of the family called to book.
It was not found difficult to keep the talk in pleasant channels, and the effort was amply repaid both at the time and later.

Finger Nails.
It is always amusing to speculate on the character of one's neighbor. A very simple aid in so doing is to watch the nails. If a man's or woman's nails are long and slender you may be quite certain the person is not so robust physically as the possessor of short, broad nails.

Whereas, men and women with the long, narrow type of nail are inveterate visionaries, those having short nails are almost always conspicuous
by the strength of their logical powers. It is the latter who make the best and most reliable critics.

A further and almost certain characteristic of long-nailed people is their intense depreciation of themselves and their own efforts in any branch of work. The feeling almost amounts to pessimism with them. Such a point of view, however, seldom worries those possessing short nails. In fact, more often than not rather the reverse is the case; they are inclined to be over sure of themselves.

Arnica Salve cured him. It will help you. Only 25c. Recommended by

ALL HAULING DONE BY HAND

Draft Animals, Except the Human Kind, Are Absolutely Unknown
in Mombasa.

There are no horses or draft animals in Mombasa; the fly is too deadly. Therefore all hauling is done by hand. The tiny tracks of the unique street-car system run everywhere any one would wish to go, branching off even into private grounds and to the very front doors of bungalows situated far out of town. Each resident owns his own street car, just as elsewhere
a man has his own carriage. There are, of course, public cars also, each with its pair of boys to push it, and also a number of rather decrepit rickshaws. As a natural corollary to the passenger traffic, the freighting also is handled by the blacks on large, flat trucks with short guiding poles. These men are quite naked save for a small loin cloth; are beautifully shaped and glisten all over from the perspiration shining in the sun. So fine is the texture of their skins, the softness of their color, so rippling the play of muscles, that this shining perspiration is like a beautiful polish. They push from behind, slowly and steadily and patiently and unwaveringly, the most tremendous loads of the heaviest stuffs. When the hill becomes too steep for them they turn their backs
against the truck and by placing one foot behind the other, a few inches at a time, they edge their burden up the slope.—Stewart Edward White, in Harper's Magazine.

HOW HE ACQUIRED BLACK EYE

Humiliating Mark of Personal Conflict Made Automobilist Something of a Hero.

"You, sir," he said to the man with the black eye who sat down beside him in the street car, "are an automoblist?"

"I am," was the reply.
"You were out on the road the other day speeding at the rate of 40 miles an hour."

"No, I was only going 10."
"You found yourself about to run over someone, and you steered the machine into a lamp post to prevent that? The way you got your black eye."

"Oh, it came easier than that,"
laughed the victim. "I was passing a farmhouse at 10 miles an hour
when I saw that I was about to run over a chicken. I kept on, and the chicken was killed. I came back that way an hour later and the farmer and his two sons held me up and blacked
my eye."

"But you didn't pay for the chicken?"
"No, sir. I took a $10 licking rather than pay 30 cents of a chicken."
"A difference of $9.70. Sir, your hand. You are a hero. A halo of romance surrounds, but why the devil
don't you put beefsteak on your eye
and take the black out?"

Heights of Lions and Tigers.

Three feet or a little over is the real height of good-sized lions and tigers, and when sportsmen realize what an extra six inches or nine inches added to the stature involves in increased length and general bulk to balance the known proportions of the animals I am equally sure they will admit that no lion ever scaled anything like four feet at the shoulder, and that the height measurements of dead specimens give quite a false idea of the actual heights of the animals in life.

The following are the heights at the shoulders of some of our larger fel-dae: Large lioness, 2 feet 11 inches;
Manchurian tigress, 2 feet 9 inches;
Nepal tigress, 2 feet 8 inches; Sumatran tiger, 2 feet 7 inches; large male jaguar, 2 feet 3 inches; male cheetah
2 feet 2 inches.—The Field.

Other Colonists Than British.

"If there is one tenet in which British self-complacency has clung with more desperate energy than another," says an English author, Mr.
Charles Thomas-Stanford, in a recently published book "About Algeria," "it is that our people are the only successful colonists. A motor drive through the rich plain which encircles Algiers will send our long-cherished beliefs a-packing to the limbo of dead British prejudices." The author describes with special enthusiasm a visit to a farm whose equipment included two motor cars and an aeroplane.

Day of Turks' Glory Gone.

"O for an hour of Suleiman the Magnificent," the beaten Turks might well exclaim in this day of their extinction as a great military power. On thirteen different occasions Sulei-man's armies marched forth from Constantinople through its Adrianople gate, and as many times returned in triumph through that portal of victory. The equally famous golden gate was walled up by Mohammed II, after his capture of the city in 1453, as a superstition arose that by it the Christians would re-enter Constantinople victorious.

Misdirected Energy.

"Mrs. Waggon is always working for some charitable object or other."
"Very commendable. What is she engaged in now?"
"She's making fancy pin cushions for some poor factory children who don't get enough to eat."

Their Peculiarity.

"Fine speaker, eh?"
"Splendid!"
"And yet his wife says she has never heard him make a speech."
"Wives are rarely listeners."

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L.
Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy

LIKE FLAVOR OF CHOCOLATE

Addition to Custard Makes Little Extra Work, and the Children Are Sure to Appreciate It.

It is no more trouble to make a chocolate custard than it is a plain
one, and the chocolate is a change.
Children especially enjoy a custard
made in this way. The proportions are two cupfuls of milk, one ounce of chocolate, two eggs, sugar to taste,
usually about three tablespoonfuls, a pinch of salt and half a teaspoonful of any preferred flavoring.

Melt the chocolate in a double boiler. Pour the milk in and let it come to a boil. Beat eggs, sugar and salt together, and pour the boiling milk over the mixture and strain into custard cups or one large dish as preferred. Set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven.

I suppose you know how to tell when the custard is done. If not, then the test is a knife put into the middle of the custard. If the knife comes out clean the dish is ready to be taken from the oven, while if the custard sticks to the knife it must be left a little longer.—Exchange.

BEEF BRAISED A LA BRISSE

Change From the Familiar Roast is Something That Will Be Appreciated by the Family.

Take a rump piece of beef, weighing at least eight pounds, and lard it with half a pound of salt pork, cut in long, half-inch square pieces. Season
well with allspice, chopped parsley, and a little garlic. Tie up firmly and place in the stew pan with four ounce of melted beef suet; fry briskly until a crisp brown all over. Drain off the fat, add a quart of broth made from bones and trimming, two cups tomato sauce; a bunch of parsley; two onions, and about a quart and pint of quartered turnips. Let boil up, then cover and let simmer gently for nearly three hours. Take out the beef and place on a platter and rub the vegetables through a sieve into the saucepan, skim off all fat from the gravy
and reduce to the consistency of their sauce, then press the turnips, etc.,
through a fine sieve to make a puree.
Turn onto the platter and place the meat on the puree. Pour some of the gravy over the meat and serve.

Good Dumplings.

Many cooks fail with dumplings
from letting the mixture stand after
it is blended or from letting the water
under them get below the boiling point, says the Commoner. Mix and sift two cupfuls of flour and four tea-spoonfuls of baking powder and one half teaspoonful of salt. Work into this three teaspoonfuls of butter, using the tips of the fingers, then add gradually three-fourths of a cupful of sweet milk; put out onto a floured
board and without working, roll out to half an inch thick; cut in any shape desired, or in strips, dip in flour and lay the pieces close together in a well-greased steamed; set
this over a kettle of boiling water
cover closely and steam for fourteen minutes, keeping the water below rapidly boiling. Serve as soon as possible with portions of meat.

Sausage Patties.

For sausage cakes use cold pork
it is best to use some of the fat also and add equal portions of fresh ground round steak. Two cupfuls of the ground pork and beef as directed, one teaspoonful of minced onion
one-eighth teaspoonful of mixed sausage herbs or powdered sage, one-fourth teaspoonful of salt, a good sprinkling of paprika or pepper, yolk
of one egg and a little flour as needed.
Mix all ingredients very thoroughly with a fork in bowl. With floured hands take up enough to form round cakes a little larger than a dollar and one inch thick. If mixture is too moist a little flour can be worked in.
This depends on the size of yolk and consistency of meat. When formed dip each in a little flour and fry in good drippings or a little lard and butter.

Molasses Pudding.

Mix together one cupful of finely chopped beef suet, three cupfuls of sifted flour, one teaspoonful and a half
of salt, one teaspoonful of cinnamon,
a half teaspoonful each of mace, allspice and cloves, and one pound of seeded raisins. Add one cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of soda dissolved in a little hot water and stirred into one cupful of molasses. Turn into a buttered mold and steam standily for four hours. Serve with a hard sauce.

Lemon Pudding.

Cream one cup of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of butter, add yolk of four eggs, then two cups bread crumbs and one quart milk with juice
and rind of one lemon, one teaspoonful of salt; mix till smooth, put in greased baking dish and bake; beat whites of eggs with one cup powdered sugar and juice of one lemon;
spread on top of pudding and brown

Potato Fritters.

Grate six cold boiled potatoes, add
one pint of cream or milk, enough
flour to make stiff as other fritters,
yolks of three eggs, then the beaten
whites, a little salt, and fry in hot lard. They are delicious.

Rice Pudding.

One pint milk, two tablespoonfuls of rice. Let them come to a boil, stir in two tablespoonfuls of sugar, half a cup of seeded raisins, a lump of butter. Flavor with cinnamon, and bake until thick.

MAKING WORK EASIER

MATTER OF SAVING ENERGY IS OF MUCH IMPORTANCE.

Average Housekeeper Works About Twice as Hard as Is Necessary to Accomplish the Tasks That Are Set for Her.

In factories the matter of saving energy is made a study; in fact, it has become almost a science, but in the household where there is just as great need of saving every ounce of energy little if any effort is made in this direction, writes Alice R. Quimby in the Chicago American.

As a result the average housekeeper
goes to her bed at night thoroughly tired and the chances are that she has exerted just about twice as much energy as was actually necessary in the performance of her duties
throughout the day. The whole secret lies in studying every task necessary in the running of a household,
and learning, if possible, where the same work could be lessened.

Take the beating of eggs, for instance. Almost every woman breaks them in a bowl, stands up in the pantry, tips up the bowl with the left hand and beats them with a fork or else whips them with a wire beater.

Sometimes a rotary egg beater is used. In this case it takes both hands and every woman knows that the bowl dances and prances all over the table or the sideboard, or wherever she is working.

It takes a great deal of energy to hold this bowl, or to hold the rotary beater in the bowl and keep the bowl
from prancing about.

A little wooden arrangement in which a bowl or porcelain dish could be set, holding it firmly on or at the side of an old kitchen table, would surely do away with one-half of this labor, for the woman could then sit down and use both hands in beating
the eggs, thereby saving the energy needed in keeping the bowl in place and resting herself by sitting at the same time.

The modern bread-mixer is a cumbersome thing to manage unless it is made firm to a bench or table. Get a tinsmith to solder clamps on the bottom of the mixer, that it may be clamped down securely. This will save fully half the labor in mixing bread.

The bright housekeeper can get a lot of enjoyment out of mapping out her work along the line of least resistance, and after this is done she will find that at the end of the day
she has not wasted half the energy
she formerly did, and that she is no
nearly as tired.

Potato Fritters.

Bake about a dozen large, mealy potatoes; break them open when done and scrape out the contents and put quickly through the press or sieve.
Put the pulp into a saucepan with two ounces of butter, two ounces of sugar, the grated rind of a lemon, and
the beaten yolks of four to six eggs.
Stir well over the fire with a wooden spoon until they are thoroughly heated; then spread an inch thick in a flat buttered pan, cover with buttered paper, and let cool; then turn out on a floured table and with a buttered knife cut in rounds with pastry cutter, dip in light, thin flour batter, and drop in deep, hot fat and fry same as doughnuts or other fritters. Roll in powdered sugar and serve.

Drawn Butter or White Sauce.

Cream one tablespoonful each of flour and butter until thoroughly mixed. Add to one cup of milk cream or white stock and cook until the flour and butter are well mixed. Season with salt, also pepper if liked.
If brown sauce is desired, put a tablespoonful of butter in a pan and put over the stove to heat. Sprinkle into it a tablespoonful of water, and brown, stirring constantly. Then add gravy, stock or water until it thick-ens.

Creamed Hash.

Cut beef, veal or mutton in slices,
then chop fine, and brown in a little fat pork or bacon drippings. Drain from the fat, and into same pan put two tablespoonfuls of flour to two of the fat and rub smooth. Then add a cup of rich milk or cream, if you can spare it, salt and pepper to taste, and stir until it boils up. Then add the meat and cook long enough to heat thoroughly, and pour out over toasted slices of bread.

Spiced Beef Relish.

Take two pounds of raw beef and
chop very fine; add half teaspoon salt,
quarter teaspoon pepper, half teaspoon sage, and two tablespoonfuls melted butter. Roll two crackers very fine and add to the mixture and bind together with two beaten eggs. Shape into a roll and bake, basting often with melted butter and water. Slice cold. Serve with horseradish mayonnaise.

Coffee Charlotte.

Soak one-fourth box of gelatin in one cup of milk until it is soft, then turn over it one-half cup of strong boiling coffee and stir until it is dissolved. Add three-fourths cup sugar, and when cool stir in one cup of whipped cream.

Potato Salad.

Four large cold potatoes, one small onion, one hard boiled egg, all chopped
fine. Season with salt and paprika,
place on lettuce leaves, pouring over the salad a thin mayonnaise dressing.

SLAVE FOR CHRISTMAS GIFT

Now the Old Negro Who Was Presented Believes He Was Well Remembered, Too.

I was an only child, reared down
in Virginia, and I always had Christmas gifts galore, says a writer in the Baltimore News. Had to hang up a shoe bag with ten pockets
in it. Then the gifts would spill out. But I remember one Christmas gift my father gave me.

I woke up bright and early one Christmas morning to find a jet black negro boy I had never seen before standing by my bed. He was grinning from ear to ear.

"Where did you come from?"

"Out of the Jones family, sar."

"What are you doing here?"

"Your father done give me to you,
sir, as a Christmas gift, yas sah. He said I was to be your valise, yes sah.
I sure am yours."

"What's your name?"

"Henry, sah."

And we played together many happy years in the dear old Virginia sunshine. Henry is an old man now, a porter on the Pennsy. I came over from Philly with him the other day.

"Henry, I am going back to the old town."

"Gard bless you, sah; give 'em my love. Mr. Hawks, do you remember the morning—the Chris'mus mornin'
old master gave me to you?"

"Indeed, I do."

"Well, sah, I think we both got a Christmas gift that mornin'."

INDULGED SELF TOO MUCH

How Dr. S. Weir Mitchell Was Gratefully Repaired by the Late John Bigelow.

The late John Bigelow, the patriarch of diplomats and authors, and the no less distinguished physician
and author, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell, were together, several years ago, at West Point. Dr. Bigelow was then ninety-two and Dr. Mitchell eighty.

The conversation turned to the subject of age. "I attribute my many years," said Dr. Bigelow, "to the fact that I have been most abstemious. I have eaten sparingly, and have not used tobacco, and have taken little exercise."

"It is just the reverse in my case," explained Dr. Mitchell. "I have eaten just as much as I wished, if I could get it; I have always used tobacco, immoderately at times; and I have always taken a great deal of exercise."

With that, Ninety-two years shook
his head at Eighty Years and said,
"Well, you will never live to be an old man."

WESTMINSTER MEETING

Growing Interest in the Evangelistic Services Now Being Conducted.

SERVICES THROUGHOUT WEEK

Afternoon Services Are More Particularly Bible-reading.

Crowded houses at both services of Westminster church on Sunday attested the growing interest in the evangelistic services now being conducted in that church by the Rev. Geo. W. Belk, evangelist of Mublenburg and Paducah Presbyteries.

In the morning Mr. Belk preached on "Heaven" and by numerous quotations of Scriptural passages threw much light on its location and characteristics. It was a sermon full of comfort to believers and of exhortation to those who are forfeiting the right to the enjoyment of it by refusing to accept Christ.

In the evening the topic of the sermon was "The Choice of Moses" and the speaker showed how even on the basis of worldly preference it had been a wise one in that it brought to him even greater honors than he could have hoped for in Egypt, and at last entitled him to be buried by the angels of God, and to stand with the greatest of the earth on the Mount of Transfiguration.

Services will be conducted twice daily this week, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 at night. The afternoon services are more particularly Bible readings, and the great doctrines of the Bible are brought out with convincing force and clearness.

PRESIDENTS' DAUGHTERS

Who Will Be Thirteenth White House Bride.

The historians have been busy counting up the White House brides and rehearsing the glories of their nuptials. The last White House wedding was that of Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth. Others were:

1811—Lucy Payne Washington, sister of Mrs. Madison, to Judge Todd of Kentucky.

1812—Anna Todd, Mrs. Madison's cousin, and Representative John G. Jackson of Virginia.

1820—Marie Monroe, daughter of the President, to Laurence Gouverneur, his secretary.

1826—John Adams, son of President John Quincy Adams, to his cousin, Helen Jackson.

1829-37—Delia Lewis to Alphonse Yver Pagot, attache of the French Legation; Marie Easton, niece of President Jackson, to Lucian B. Polk; Emily Marlin to Lewis Randolph.

1842—Elizabeth Tyler, daughter of the President, to William Waller.

1874—Nellie Grant to Algernon Sartoris.

1878—Emily Platt, niece of President Hayes to Gen. Russell Hastings.

1888—President Grover Cleveland to Frances Folsom.

1906—Alice Roosevelt to Representative Nicholas Longworth.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

DROPPED DEAD

Crofton Farmer Expires Suddenly While Seated in Chair.

Bunch Dunning, a farmer living a few miles west of Crofton, dropped dead Sunday. Mr. Dunning had gone a few miles from home to visit a relative and while seated in a chair he fell to the floor and expired almost instantly. He was a victim of heart disease. Mr. Dunning was 50 years old. He leaves a wife.

PARALYSIS

Caused Death of Native of This County.

Mrs. Hallie Terrell died near Guthrie Friday, at the home of her son, Jesse E. Evans. Mrs. Terrell was a member of the Christian Church and during the past few months had been a great sufferer, having been confined to her bed since she had a stroke of paralysis several months ago, from which she never recovered. She was born in Christian county in 1836 and was married to Thos. Evans, of North Carolina. This union was blessed by two sons, Col. J. T. Evans and Jesse E. Evans, both prominent citizens of Guthrie. After the death of her first husband, Mrs. Evans was married to T. J. Terrell of Virginia, who died nineteen years ago. Mrs. Terrell was Miss Hallie Adams, of Christian county, and besides her sons she leaves a sister, Mrs. John W. Foard, and two brothers, J. M. and W. H. Adams, all of Church Hill, this county. Her funeral services were held at Guthrie Sunday by Rev. T. T. Roberts, of this city and the interment took place in the Guthrie Cemetery.

"JAKE" ARMSTRONG

Well Known Confederate Veteran Died Yesterday.

D. H. Armstrong, known to his friends as "Jake" Armstrong, died of heart disease yesterday morning, aged 72 years. He had lived in the county for several years but since his recent return from Florida had made his home in the city. He is survived by his second wife, one brother and two sons and a daughter, who live in Oregon. He was a Confederate veteran and a survivor of Gettysburg. His funeral will be held at 4 o'clock today from his residence by Rev. A. R. Kasey. The burial will be in Todd county.

Wanted Money Only.

Some person or persons on robbery intent effected an entrance at the side door of the Princess Theatre last Friday night. After breaking into Manager Guill's desk and going through a couple of drawers in search of money, which wasn't to be found, whoever it was made their exit without taking anything with them.

DR. CLARDY QUITE ILL

Honored Citizen of This County Received Stroke of Paralysis.

NOW IN HIS 85TH YEAR.

Served In Congress, Constitutional Convention and Many Places of Honor.

Dr. John D. Clardy passed a bad night Sunday and no material change in condition was noticeable yesterday at four o'clock. The Doctor received a stroke of paralysis last Saturday. His daughter, Mrs. J. N. Prestridge, of Louisville, was telegraphed for and arrived Sunday and is now at his bedside. Dr. Prestridge arrived yesterday morning. Dr. Clardy is partially paralyzed in his left side, but is able to get on his feet and partake of some food. While he is a very sick man and his extreme age is all against his recovery, his family cling to the hope that his life may be spared. He has the sympathy of innumerable friends in the city and all over the county in his affliction. He is probably the best known man in the county and no one can say aught against him. His life has been clean and pure. He has served the people in Congress for two consecutive terms, was a member of the Constitution Convention of 1891, was a member of the Gobel Commission, a practicing physician for many years, and no man stood higher in the county than he. He is one of the largest farmers in the county, he has always been a public spirited citizen and has done more towards securing good roads in the county than anybody. As a Christian he is pointed to as a model and has long been a leader of the activities of the Baptist church. He has remained at home most of the winter, but with the load of 85 years resting upon him, he would often venture to leave his model country home, 8 miles from the city, and drive into town on business and to shake hands with those he loved to meet.

The first report sent out to the press was not entirely correct, but mainly so. Friday he got on his horse and took a ride about his farm and when he returned home he rode up to the back yard and dismounted. He started to go up the steps of the back porch and fell, close to his horse's feet. He was helped to his feet and assisted in getting to his room. Mrs. Clardy was very insistent on calling for his physician but the Doctor firmly maintained that he would soon get over the trouble. Saturday the stroke came. While there is cause for anxiety as to his recovery let all continue to hope that the end may not soon come to one of our best and most honored citizens.

T. C. OFFICIALS

Clark, officials of the Tennessee Central railroad, inspected the Hopkinsville division Saturday. They arrived here at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on a special train of two cars and returned to Nashville Saturday night.

Spring Weather May Stay.

Washington, March 9.—Spring-time weather with fair skies and normal temperatures is promised for the coming week to all sections of the country by the weather bureau.

"The distribution of pressure over the northern hemisphere," says the bureau's bulletin, "is such as to indicate that the temperature during the current week will average near the normal over practically all parts of the country. Precipitation during the week will be generally light and local. It is not probable that any general storm will cross the country during the week."

HORSES LOVED BY SOLDIERS

Animals That Have Carried Leaders Through Famous Campaigns Remembered With Affection.

The fact that King Ferdinand of Bulgaria, commander-in-chief of the Balkan forces, has a favorite black charger which he has named Varna, after the place of that name on the Black sea where his summer place is situated, reminds one of the affection which has existed between celebrated soldiers and the horses which have accompanied them through their numerous campaigns.

One of the most famous war horses was Lord Roberts' gallant charger, Volonel, which died a few years ago, and lies buried near the Royal hospital, Dublin. Volonel was a gray Arab which Lord Roberts bought in India, and he rode the animal to Kandahar. Lord Roberts was very much attached to the animal, and when Queen Victoria awarded medals to the soldiers who had gone through the Afghan war the hero of Kandahar proudly hung round his charger's neck the Kabul medal with four clasps and the Kandahar star of bronze.

The best known of Lord Kitchener's war horses was a handsome chestnut which he named Omdurman. The animal carried Kitchener during that battle, and ultimately went with his master to South Africa during the Boer war.

HERE'S NEW TYPE OF DESERT

Those Who Have Seen the Real Thing Would Be Surprised at Pictorial Representation.

Those who have lived in Egypt will find a source of unending surprise in the scenic offerings of "high class vaudeville" which accompany the throaty howling by a near barytone of "I Shall Love Yew Till the Hot Desert Freezes Eternally," illustrated with pictures from the East (side). It should be noted here that it is hardly fair to call a locality a "desert" at all, when it is so plentifully peopled with the cosmopolitan races presented to the public on the screen.

The pictures show a wild profusion of Bedouins, Chinese, Arabs, Moors, Greeks, Armenians, Bulgarians and Turks, with a fair sprinkling of Roman senators, in every conceivable garb, ancient and modern, lounging comfortably around the pyramids and smoking Havana cigars, English pipes, hookahs and cigarettes and mostly chewing gum. But if in his choice of population the scenic artist has done well in Egyptian scenery he has certainly surpassed himself, for you behold great clusters of pyramids, sphinxes by the dozen, camels, horses, sheep, deer, ostriches and even elephants crossing the soft sand of the alleged desert or resting beneath the English oaks, Lombardy poplars, cactus and palm trees.

And before you can get your breath a gallant knight in the uniform of the Austrian hussars, covered with a kimono and a scimitar stuck in his belt, brings his sultana into the moonlight and hugs her until the everlasting desert is removed and the applause of the audience freezes over.—New York Herald.

WOMEN HOLD HIGH POSITION

Probably in No Country in the World Are They Favored With Greater Esteem Than in Servia.

There is no country in the world where women occupy a more dignified or honored position in the home than in Servia. The Servian idea is quite different from that of the Turk, who keeps his women behind shut doors, or the German, whose ideal woman is a good hausfrau. In Servia the woman is the companion of the man.

A man is responsible for his unmarried sisters, and throughout the Balkan states it is considered rather a breach of etiquette for him to marry before his older sister.

No Servian girl would feel she could hold up her head in society unless she could speak four languages. There is hardly a Servian woman who cannot play some musical instrument. Embroidery, painting, drawing and sculpture are all studied. Politics is a popular feature among women.

Servian women are very domesticated and the highest pay personal attention to trivial matters of house-keeping.

There are two women doctors practicing in Belgrade, and women teachers galore. But public opinion, on the whole, is rather against women entering the labor arena.

In Installments.

They were experts in many things, but chiefly in the art of bragging. And at the moment they were discussing their own wonderful feats as vocalists.

"Why," said the Englishman, blowing rings of smoke from his cigar, "the first time I sang in public the audience simply showered me with bouquets. Bless you, there were enough to start a flower shop!"

"Faith, an' I can beat you!" cried the Irishman. "The first time I sang was at an open air concert, and, begorra, the audience were that delighted they presented me with a house, they did!"

"A house! You must be off your head!" interrupted the Englishman, scoffingly.

"Not at all," answered Pat. "I tell ye they gave me a house—but it was a brick at a time!"—London Answers.

An Anodyne.

"An anodyne," patiently explained a well-known physician to a woman patient, "is a delusion. Any medicine that soothes pain has this drawback—it relieves the attack, but the next attack comes on much sooner. Understand, it'll cure your headache, but you're bound to have another head ache in a day or two."

The woman pondered a bit. "I know just what you mean, doctor," she said. "I've noticed it about Henry, my husband, you know. A doctor prescribed whisky for his cough. My husband says it cured his cough quicker than anything else ever did, but I notice that he gets a new cough almost every week, now."—Louisville Times.

Old Coins Really Broken.

They had an ingenious plan for meeting a shortage of small change in the old days before copper coins existed. Until the reign of Edward I. the silver penny was the smallest coin minted in England, to the great inconvenience of the small purchaser of the period. But the difficulty was to some extent got over by the issue of pennies indented with a deep cross. The coin could then be broken into halfpennies and farthings. Our first real copper coinage only dates from 1672, and until the time of Edward VI. farthings of silver were coined, growing smaller and smaller as the value of silver increased.—London Chronicle.

TUBERCULOSIS

Dr. Friedmann Administers His Serum to Three New York Sufferers.

New York, March 7.—The first demonstration in America of Dr. Friedrich Franz Friedmann's treatment, which the visiting Berlin physician declares is a cure for tuberculosis, was given by Dr. Friedmann Thursday in the presence of physicians representing the city, the State and the staffs of hospitals of several cities.

Three patients, two men and a woman, were selected by Dr. Friedmann from fifty tuberculosis sufferers gathered from all parts of the city, all hopeful that they would receive the treatment. The woman has been ill three years. Her's is a chronic case of the disease at the knee, and was the most serious of the three chosen. The two men have tuberculosis of the lungs.

Physicians who were present brought forward a dozen persons suffering with the disease in all its stages. The medical history of each was available for Dr. Friedmann's use. Statistics had been prepared at his request. The Berlin physician declined to treat any of these cases, however, but made his own selections.

Each of the three who were treated received a double injection, in the muscle and in the vein. Dr. Friedmann explained to those about him that the first reaction might be expected to be observed after seven days.

Meanwhile the Medical Board at the hospital will have the three under constant observation.

The Government is prepared to designate one or more officers of the United States Public Health Service, Dr. Friedmann announced, to associate themselves with him in a study of his treatment. Dr. Friedmann said he will welcome an official test, and has so wired the Treasury Department, offering to place his culture at the Government's disposal and asking if its medical representative would come to New York on March 9 for demonstrations on patients.

JOHN B. EVERETT

Well Known Citizen Dies of Uraemic Poisoning.

John B. Everett, a well known farmer who resided about five miles North of the city, died Friday afternoon at the home of his brother, Mr. S. E. Everett, just East of the city. Mr. Everett had been a sufferer from bladder trouble for some time. He was a member of the present jury, but was taken ill shortly after circuit court convened and was excused from further service. He went out to his brother's to spend the night and his condition continued to grow worse until the end came. Uraemic poisoning developed and this coupled with pneumonia caused his death. Mr. Everett was 66 years old and leaves a wife and four small children. Several grown children by a former marriage also survive. He was a brother of Mr. W. H. Everett, of this city, who died about three weeks ago. Two other brothers, James and S. S. Everett, and one sister reside near the city.

The deceased was formerly postmaster at Fairview, but had been engaged in farming North of town for some years. The interment took place near East's schoolhouse Saturday afternoon.

Another Hung Jury.

The second trial of Clarence S. Darrow on a charge of jury bribing at Los Angeles yesterday resulted in the jury disagreeing. The vote is reported to have been eight to four for conviction.

QUIET WEDDING

At Hille Flats Last Friday Night.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Hall and Mr. J. T. Wilson was solemnized by the Rev. E. P. Watson, pastor of the Cleveland Avenue Christian church, at the Hille Flats last Friday night. The marriage was a quiet affair, only a few friends being present.

The marriage was the consummation of a love affair of long standing. The home of the principals has been in Mt. Sterling. The date of their marriage having been definitely fixed the young lady came and was met at the train by her affianced husband, who made her acquainted with some of his lady friends.

Mr. Wilson is the efficient and genial assistant operator and manager of the Western Union Telegraph office. During his service here his courtesy to patrons of the office and that smile that won't wear off have made him hosts of friends, all of whom wish him and his fair bride long life and happiness. For the present Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are boarding with Mrs. George Steele East 9th street.

POPULAR SONG

Which Seemed to Have Died After Election, Revived.

Chicago, March 7.—An echo of Speaker Clark's campaign for the Democratic nomination for president came yesterday when a suit for $2,352 royalties on the song entitled "You Gotta Quit Kickin' My Dawg Around," was begun in the municipal court.

Both plaintiff and defendant are music printing and publishing concerns. It was set forth by the plaintiff that the melody was sung in the Ozark mountains for years before it became a recent craze.

Smithson & Everitt, FUNERAL DIRECTORS.

The National For March.

There is all the glamor of inauguration days in the March National, and the colloquial melange by the editor, Joe Chapple, shows us that the transference of a great government from one administration to another is not simply a formality, but a public ceremony that always fascinates and holds the interest of every individual in the country. "McKinley's Place in History" is the title of a sketch by William Howard Taft. "The Self Masters Colony" in New Jersey chronicles one of the most wholesome institutions of modern philanthropy. One of the most enjoyable biographical articles published in recent years is "A Day with John D. Rockefeller" by the editor, and it is accounted one of the most interesting sketches concerning Mr. Rockefeller that has ever been published. In line with the National Editors' policy to keep in touch with prominent men, the story of "Henry Ford and the Birds" is intensely interesting. Mr. Ford is the head of the Ford Automobile Company, one of the largest motor factories in the world, but when he tells of the song of the robin being the first thing that he can remember he chronicles the depth and tenderness of his life interest in birds. One of the most powerful poems ever written by Ella Wheeler Wilcox, "The Sword," appears in the March National splendidly illustrated. "The Fall of Constantinople," by Charles W. Hall is an effective sketch of the centuries of struggle between the Crescent and the Cross for the possession of Constantinople, and is elegantly illustrated. The stories for March have snap and wholesomeness and there are entertaining accounts of the new plays and stage favorites. There is also great interest shown in the contest for "heart letters," which promises to prove as popular as the "Heart Throbs" campaign.

CAR COLLIDES

With Engine And Workman Has Leg Crushed.

William Jackson, a railroad carpenter of this city, in the employ of the L. & N., was a victim of a serious accident near Henderson last Friday evening. He was on a hand car which collided with an engine and his right leg was caught in some manner and broken in two places above the knee. The knee was also dislocated. Mr. Jackson was brought home, 818 West Seventh street, Saturday afternoon and is getting along as well as could be expected.

To The Public.

The Civic League has always felt the indorsement of the public in Hopkinsville, and often in a most substantial manner. Thursday afternoon when Mr. Metcalfe so kindly gave a decorated and heated building with gas stove for use, and also beautiful flowers for each performer, the ladies of the league decided to let the public know they are not unmindful of the courtesies they have received. They thank Mr. Metcalfe most heartily. They also wish to thank Mr. George Smith, who gave them the use of a handsome piano and Mr. Vince Williamson, who contributed so generously in the moving of the piano. MRS. TOM UNDERWOOD, Chm. The Woodmen of Kentucky are to meet in Henderson today and remain in camp for three days. Every city and town having a camp are expected to send representatives. There are 300 camps in the State and the number of delegates has been placed at 800, besides about 200 of the wives and children of the Woodmen are expected to go.

An interesting program for each day has been prepared. The number of men who will receive degrees is placed at 1,000. Special trains are to be run from Louisville, Hopkinsville and Princeton.

Perry's Flagship Raised.

Commodore Perry's old flagship, the Niagara, which for almost a century has rested at the bottom of Misery Bay, an arm of Lake Erie, was raised to the surface last Friday, during a blinding snowstorm.

Four huge chains had been placed beneath the hull, which is 110 feet long, and with a grinding and creaking as though the ice flooring of the bay was breaking up, it was lifted through a huge opening that had been cut in the ice. pontoons were placed beneath the old warship and as soon as a channel can be cut through the ice, it will be towed to Erie, Pa.

The timbers were found to be in a good state of preservation and it is expected no difficulty will be encountered in its reconstruction.

S. G. BUCKNER

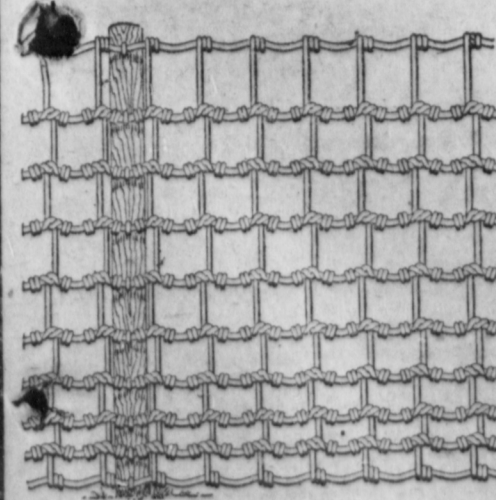

Announces As Candidate For Councilman in 2d Ward.

The announcement of Mr. Samuel G. Buckner appears in the candidates' column today. He is a candidate for Councilman in his (the second) ward. He submits his claims to the action of the Democratic primary. He is not only a true-blue Democrat but a first-class man in every respect. He has always had the best interests of the city at heart and the people of his ward cannot find a man who will more fully appreciate their support or one more entitled to the honor he seeks at their hands. As Hopkinsville is growing so rapidly both in population and business enterprise she needs men to give time and attention to her interests, and S. G. Buckner is a man of that kind.

Pigeon Descended Chimney.

When a resident in the London road, Reading, England, came down stairs recently, he found perched on the top bar of the grate in the drawing-room a pigeon which had come down the chimney. It had brought with it a considerable quantity of soot. When the occupier opened the windows the pigeon made its escape.

KOKOMO PIONEER FENCE

We are the Agents for Kokomo Fence in this City and vicinity, and we have taken this Agency only after thoroughly satisfying ourselves that Kokomo Fencing has more real value and merit per rod than any other fence manufactured.

The galvanizing on this wire is the EQUAL of the BEST and BETTER THAN MOST wire used in the manufacture of fencing.

The Stay Wires are attached in such a manner that they cannot be slipped on the line wires.

Your fence stays tight regardless of heat or cold. It's built that way. The long smooth coils in the line wires do it.

Notice the Coil in the Line Wires

Like This

The fibre in the steel is not injured by this coil as it would be if we used a short kink in the line wires, but on the contrary, the Breaking Strain of Kokomo Fence is greater than any other fence with the same number of line wires of equal size.

If you need fence now let us make you prices. If you don't need it now, remember where to buy the real thing when you do need fence.

BULLETS DID LITTLE DAMAGE

Aviator's Machine Hit Frequently, but Efficiency Was Not Impaired at Any Time.

The Balkan campaign has proved valuable to the science of aviation. It has shown by one concrete example that the mere fact of being struck by bullets and perforated does not signify irretrievable disaster for the airship. The Russian aviator, Edmoft, was engaged by Bulgaria to fly to Adrianople and throw down handbills in the Turkish language, in which the Bulgarians called on the population of Adrianople to surrender. He was given only an old apparatus, but he threw down the bills. "At Port Karagach I saw a considerable number of infantrymen shooting towards the sky with their rifles," he said. "I did not hear the shots, but when I noticed that four bullets had struck my apparatus I knew for whom the shots were meant. I did not lose my presence of mind, but flew on. When the guns in the forts fired shrapnel at me and when the apparatus had been struck several times by fragments of projectiles the situation became critical. Fortunately only the wings were hit and not the motor, and so I could keep on and in twenty minutes I was once more in the flying field at Mustafa Pasha. The apparatus was repaired and used again."

STONES THAT SEEK COMPANY

Peculiarity of Small Rocks of Nevada Draws Them Together as by a Magnet.

"Traveling stones," from the size of a pea to six inches in diameter, are found in Nevada. When distributed on a floor or other level surface, within two or three feet of one another, they immediately begin to travel toward a common center, and there lie huddled like a clutch of eggs in a nest. A single stone removed to a distance of 3½ feet, upon being released, at once started with wonderful and somewhat comical celerity to join its fellows.

These queer stones are found in a region that is comparatively level and little more than a bare rock. Scattered over this barren region are little basins, from a few feet to a rod or two in diameter, and it is in the bottom of these that the rolling stones are found.

The cause for the strange conduct of these stones is doubtless to be found in the material of which they are composed, which appears to be loadstone or magnetic iron ore.

Peary's Journey.

Admiral Robert E. Peary was in the smoking compartment of a train leaving New Orleans for the north. A fussy young man, evidently a commercial traveler on his first trip, came in and sought to make conversation.

"Well," he said, "we're in for a long, tedious journey."

"Yes," answered Peary.

"I'm going clear through to Atlanta," observed the young man.

"Indeed," said Peary.

"Yes; clear through to Atlanta. Long, tiresome trip, too."

"Yes," observed Peary.

"Maybe you're not going so far as I am," said the young man.

"Maybe not."

"How far are you going?"

"Oh," said Peary, "I'm only going to the North Pole!"

Sensible Spanish King.

King Alfonso of Spain has so far refused to follow the usual custom of the Spanish court of residing at the Escorial during the summer. He is reported as saying lately, with grim humor, in explanation of this refusal: "I shall spend quite enough time at the Escorial when I am dead, and do not intend to stay there until I have lost the right to choose my residence." The Escorial palace, it will be recalled, contains within its vast area the mausoleums which form the final resting place of Spanish royalty.

Word Has Larger Meaning.

A reader questions the use of the word "replica" in the phrase "a replica of Hudson's ship." A replica, properly speaking, is a duplicate copy, by the artist himself, of a work of art. But the term is acquiring a larger use, as is evidenced by the fact that the Oxford English Dictionary includes a secondary definition of the word as "a copy, reproduction, facsimile," and quotes Kipling and other authors as using the word in this wider sense.—The Outlook.

Short and Inclusive.

Talleyrand could write a short letter. When a woman wrote to inform him of the death of her husband, he simply replied: "Chere marquise, he-las." And among official dispatches there is that of Sir George Walton, who, after an engagement with the Spanish fleet, wrote: "Sir: I have taken or destroyed all the Spanish ships as per margin. Yours, etc." And a later instance was the complaint of Cecil Rhodes that Dr. Jim had upset the apple cart.

His Principle.

"Why is that rich man so selfish with his money?"
"Principle, my dear. He believes wealth is a burden and he does not care to put it on anybody else."

Its Place.

"We don't find much of the fresh bloom of youth among the girls nowadays."
"Why, what's the matter with their vanity bags?"

GOOD YEAR FOR HEDGEHOGS

Extraordinary Multiplication of the Animals Something of a Puzzle to the English.

Among the curiosities of natural history that last year produced is to be noted the extraordinary multiplication of the hedgehog. On some of the heavy lands of the midlands they have been found hibernating in such numbers as no native has imagined possible.

This is the more curious, as other mammals, especially rabbits, are singularly scarce. The rabbits were drowned in hundreds. Their bodies were seen floating down the brooks, and a certain number of leveretts were also killed by the wet. What should make these rather obscure animals flourish is mysterious, but both they and the rat seem to multiply in wet years.

In the places where these hedgehogs are so numerous there is a great dearth of partridges, and the two facts are by some connected. It is not unlikely that the number of these animals has forced them into a rather less vegetarian diet than is usual, and some nests were rifled. But it is only when the numbers are excessive that any English animal is out of place in the economy of the country. There is room even for the wildcat, which has recently been rediscovered in the north, where it was held to be extinct.—London Mail.

SEAMEN HAVE LITTLE JOKE

Relieve Tedium of Sailing With Harmless Jest at the Expense of Keeper of Lighthouse.

A few miles north of Vladivostok there is a lighthouse perched on a cliff 200 feet above the sea. And this lighthouse, or rather its solitary keeper, is the butt of an international joke.

Fogs have funny ways at sea, as you know, and just at this spot the sea fog often lies clear above the waves but dense around the high lighthouse.

The lighthouse man is bound to make sound signals with guns and foghorns whenever his view of the sea is obscured, for he cannot tell how far the fog may extend, and passing ships must be guided safely.

And when the sea is clear for miles under a high belt of fog that hides the lighthouse, passing ships of all nations make mock signals as if they too were fogbound. The industrious lighthouse keeper keeps on banging away at his bells, firing his guns, and blowing his foghorn. And on the decks of the ships below weather-beaten seamen grin and wink to one another as they clang their ship's bells in clear daylight, for jokes are none too common at sea.—Exchange.

Like the Historic Ark.

Steamers from Ohio River points with apples, potatoes, live poultry, and other produce, have been enlivening the Pittsburgh waterfront. The Muskingum river packet, on its arrival with a capacity cargo of farm products, presented the appearance of an understudy to the original ark. Chickens in coops, piled three tiers high, occupied the available space on the roof. Ducks, turkeys and geese gobbled and squawked defiance from the guards and lower decks; horses, cattle calves and swine added to the babel of sounds from the lower deck. Forward and aft egg crates and apples, potatoes and Ohio Swiss cheese were in evidence, with long stretches of tarpaulins screening many tons of baled hay and straw.—Nautical Gazette.

Unwarranted Criticisms.

Major Hubert J. Cashalton, who has been ten days in New York, and therefore has a right to speak as one with authority on phases of life in the metropolis, admits that he has seen there more beautiful young women from eighteen to twenty-five years old than in any other city. "After that the women appear to incline toward plumpness and lose their symmetrical lines, which is a pity." Piffle! And the gallant major belongs to the Indian army, and the Orientals like their women with curves rather than with lines.

Perfect Artificial Rubies.

So perfect in color, hardness, refraction, durability and composition are the most recently manufactured specimens of rubies that European brokers now refuse to take rubies in pawn, as they can not distinguish the synthetic gem from the product of nature. The German jewelry trade has petitioned the government to take legal steps to protect the public by requiring the synthetic gem to be sold as such.

New Name for It.

A lady living in Dorchester recently left her new Irish maid in charge of the house while she went shopping. Among her purchases was an umbrella stand for the vestibule. After her shopping tour she paid a visit to a friend and did not arrive home until late.

"Well," Mary," she said, "did any packages come?"
"Yes, mum," was the reply. "The wagon cum wid th' cuspidore for th' umbrellies."—Boston Transcript.

Inheritance.

"How frightfully you snored last night!"
"Yes, it was inherited."
"From your parents?"
"No, from my grandfather, who ran a steam sawmill."—Flegende Blaetter.

HAVE NO UNIFORM STANDARD

Makers of Thermometers Unable to Agree Upon One Common Starting Point.

Three thermometric scales continue in use despite all efforts on the part of scientists to bring about a uniform standard. In the Fahrenheit thermometers the interval between freezing water and boiling water is divided into 180 parts or degrees, freezing water being placed at 32 degrees above zero or the point of intense cold, so that the boiling point of water was denoted by 212 degrees. René Antoine Ferchalt de Reaumur, the French savant, inventor of the thermometric scale bearing his name, adopted the temperature of freezing water as his zero, and marked off eighty equal parts or degrees between that point and the temperature of boiling water. Celsius, a Swede, invented about the year 1780 a mode of graduation called the Centigrade, in which he took the freezing of water as the zero point, and divided the interval between that and the boiling point into 100 degrees. Thus 212 degrees Fahrenheit is equal to 100 degrees Reaumur or 100 degrees Centigrade; 60 degrees Fahrenheit is equal to 12-4-9 degrees Reaumur or 17-1-9 degrees Centigrade.

CHOCOLATE A WORLD FOOD

Figures Show That Its Consumption Is Being Increased With Every Passing Year.

The report of the minister of agriculture of Brazil, published in Le Brasil Economique (the French section of the Portuguese journal Gazeta de Noticias) of Rio de Janeiro, contains some interesting figures showing in tons the world's consumption of cacao, the product of the chocolate tree. In the United States the use of cacao in confectionery is enormous, leading that of every country in the world as the figures for 1911 will show. United States, 61,300 tons; Germany, 50,000; England, 25,500; France, 28,500; Holland, 23,400; Switzerland, 10,300; Italy, 2,400; Spain, 6,300. Of this Ecuador produced 40,300 tons; Brazil, 39,200; St. Thomas, 33,000; Trinidad, 24,200; Venezuela, 18,000; Ceylon, 4,300; Jamaica, 2,800; Haiti, 2,500, and Cuba, 1,500. The cultivation of cacao theobroma is now being encouraged in Cuba, and this is probably as far north as its cultivation can be profitably undertaken.

Trade in Human Hair.

Trade in human hair is a big industry abroad, exports sometimes reaching a total of $3,000,000 to $4,000,000 a year. Italian merchants lead in the trade, and obtain a large part of their stock from the peasant women of Italy, Switzerland and Dalmatia. A peculiar method is in vogue among the women of these countries in order to produce a supply of hair regularly, and yet not appear to have been "shorn" at all. They cut off half of the hair at the back of the head and then twist the remaining half over the exposed part and dress it in such a manner that the agents of the human hair merchants come around for the semi-annual crop of hair thus raised.—Popular Mechanics

True Type of Great Soldier.

One of the war correspondents in the Balkans writes of General Putnik, commander-in-chief of the Serbian forces, a military genius: "I was struck by the extraordinary likeness which he bore to General Grant, both in feature and build. Perhaps, however, if the reader of these lines will recall what Andrew Carnegie is like, then he will have an excellent idea of the appearance of the Serbian generalissimo who has organized the marvelously successful campaign against the Turk. Placid and gentle eyed, one of the kindest of men, I should think, he is adored by his staff and by all ranks."

High Price for Medici Letter.

Our American dust is certainly brought nigh to European grandeur when the biggest bidder at a New York city auction sale can become the owner of a real letter of Catherine de Medici, written entirely by her own fair hand. Such links to royalty come high, however; $1,350 was the price paid for the letter at the recent Hoe sale.

Improvement on Aeroplanes.

Capt. W. I. Chambers' invention of a catapult device to launch hydro-aeroplanes from warships is characterized by Glenn H. Curtiss as "the most important achievement since wheels were put upon land machines." The device, only 30 feet long, enables the aeroplane to fly immediately after leaving the ship's deck.

Wedding Ring Worn by Men.

Customs slip in and almost before we are aware of them they are there—the wearing of the wedding ring by men, for instance. Twenty years ago this was almost unknown in England, but now it is quite an ordinary thing. It has its advantages for men, as for women; it is a sign, as it were, of ownership, of not being on the market.

Really Dangerous.

"Mrs. Culling seldom asks Mr. Culling to shake down the furnace. She'd rather do that herself."

"She ought not to let him be so lazy."

"Oh, she has no wish to pamper Mr. Culling, but when he tries to shake down the furnace something usually goes wrong and she's afraid he'll shake down the house."

Terrible Train of Troubles.

Lake Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Fournier, 516 Kirby street, says: "The month before I took Cardui, I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach, dragging feelings, and no patience or courage. Since taking Cardui, I have no more pains, can walk as far as I want to and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and be benefited by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so efficient for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer, just as it has done for others. Try Cardui.

HE HAS PLAYED MANY PARTS

Before Recognition Came John Masfield Was a Sailor, American Farmer and Clerk.

John Masfield, whose poem, "The Everlasting Mercy," won him the Edmond de Polignac prize of the Royal Society of Literature, was born a little more than thirty years ago near Ledbury, in the west of England. Mr. Masfield has had a varied career. After leaving school he went to sea in the merchant marine (he has since written some fine, breezy verse on the ships and deep waters), spent a few years on an American farm, and subsequently became a clerk in a city office. Gradually his genius as a writer became recognized, and in the last few years his output has been enormous—dramatic plays, essays, novels and poems coming from his pen in rapid succession.

What a Wife Needs.

She needs a good temper, a cheerful disposition and a knowledge of how her husband should be treated. She needs a capability of looking on the bright side of life and refusing to be worried by small things. She needs a secure grasp of such subjects as are of interest to men, and should not be above studying even politics, in order to understand should her husband speak of them. She needs a sympathetic nature in order that, should sorrow fall upon them, she may be able to give comfort to her husband. She needs to understand something of sick nursing; a wife with no notion of what to do in cases of illness is but a useless thing. She needs considerable tact and patience—the one to enable her to know when to remain silent and vice versa, and the other to put up with him when his temper is ruffled.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Kept Queen Victoria's Car.

The journey of their majesties from Windsor to Worktop was notable for the fact that the old saloon with the arched dome that has figured in the composition of the royal trains for so many years was not included in the train. This historic vehicle, which was the favorite railway carriage of Queen Victoria, was dismantled at Swindon a short time ago. It was one of the oldest railway coaches running in England, for Queen Victoria had such a fancy for it that she disliked the idea of giving it up after it had become out of date, and some years before her death it was lengthened and modernized, although the original part was kept as intact as possible.—London Globe.

Few Good Cooks Found.

The position of instructor in cooking having become vacant in a school for girls in Paris, the directors agreed to engage the cook who could pass the best "practical examination." Twelve women applied, of whom six were examined on the first day in beefsteak, omelets and apple cakes. Four of the six, according to the report, were "failures." On the next day the remaining candidates prepared flounders, roast mutton and plum pudding. The jury found that only two of the second group were competent, and that of the 12 not one possessed all the necessary requirements.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Thought His Duty Ended.

The Duc de Raguse once explained to the Countess de Boigne the nature of his connection with the emperor as follows: "When the emperor said, 'All for France,' I served with enthusiasm; when he said, 'France and I,' I served with obedience; but when he said, 'I without France,' I felt the necessity of separating from him."

HAD THE CHILDREN GUESSING

Chicago Youngsters Floundered Badly When Asked to Describe One of the Simplest Flowers.

The pimpernel is a simple, sweet little flower that grows widely, but it would seem practically unknown to the public school children of Chicago. This, at least, was the conclusion reached upon a certain teacher after giving out a line from Tennyson's "Pimpernel" and asking for its written definition. The line was: "As the pimpernel dozed on the leaf," and here are some of the answers received, in addition to those defining the pimpernel as "a frog," "a small deer," "a dragon fly" and "a small shrub like a prickly pear."

"The word pimpernel calls up to my mind the image of a pampered cur. He is a worthless brute who spends most of his time dozing in the sunshine."

"The pimpernel seems to me a small animal resembling an eel. It has short, rounded ears and bright, beadlike eyes. As I imagine it, the pimpernel is lying half asleep on the grass near the shore of a lake, ready to slip into the water at the slightest sound."

"A pimpernel seems to me a tramp or gypsy. He lies on the bank in the sun with an old battered hat drawn over his face."

"I do not know what the word means, but it instantly suggests to me a small lizard covered with pimples or warts. The image flashed upon my mind as soon as the word was spoken and is still vivid and distinct. Although I never heard the word before, I seem always to have known it and to attach this meaning to it. I am absurdly confident that this is the true meaning."

All of which would seem to prove that the juvenile imagination, given free rein, can make strange work of almost any given thought or idea.

BLACK LETTERS AND WHITE

Former Can Be Read at a Greater Distance Than the Latter, Is Judgment of Experts.

There is a tendency on the part of railroads to adopt signs with white letters on a black background, not realizing that the black letter on a white background is easier to read and can be seen at a greater distance. This follows in an interesting way from the structure of the retina of the eye. The impression of a letter at the limit of vision is received on the ends of a small bundle of nerves which convey to the brain a sort of mosaic impression. A nerve can only transmit to the brain information as to whether or not a ray of light is falling upon it, and when a nerve is partly in the light and partly in darkness the sensation is the same as though all of it was in the light.

It follows, therefore, that all nerves on the dividing edge between any black and white area transmit the sensation of light so that all white lines and white areas appear wider and all black lines and black areas appear narrower than they really are.

Black letters grow thinner at the limit of vision and are still recognizable, while at the same distance white letters grow thicker and cannot be distinguished. There are circumstances when it is necessary to use white letters, but in such cases legibility will be improved if they are made with a thin stroke and strongly lighted. Black letters are more distinct if made with a heavy stroke.—Scientific American Tobacco Supports Kavalla.

A historian, writing less than fifty years ago, speaks of Kavalla, the Naples or Neapolis of Macedonia, as "a small Turkish village." When I visited it in the early days of 1912, says a writer in the Christian Herald, I found it a thriving city, the second seaport in Macedonia, beautifully situated around the little bay that forms its harbor, while on one side is a great citadel crowned with a Turkish fortress.

The narrow streets are cleaner than most Turkish cities can boast, and there are really fine and imposing buildings. These are mostly tobacco warehouses, or belong to tobacco magnates, for this weed must at least be given the credit for the present prosperity of this rising town, which is the great tobacco port and manufacturing center of Macedonia.

The chief ruins, which date back to Paul's time, are the remains of a huge Roman aqueduct, whose magnificent arches until two years before my visit had brought water to the modern city.

False Sore Throat.

If you come home after a hard day's work with a raw, rasping feeling in your throat, which becomes quite painful, do not be deceived into believing that you are contracting a sore throat, and accordingly take medicine for this affection. The throat will often become dry and painful from great fatigue, or from neglect to eat at the proper time. If the subject will drink a cup of hot water, or take a tablespoonful of coconut or olive oil, and thereafter lie down and relax for fifteen or twenty minutes, the feeling will, most likely, disappear. The subject should, under these circumstances, eat an easily digestible dinner with little meat, and no acids of any kind.

An Outrage.

"What's Mrs. Wombat abusing the government for now?"

"Seems they wouldn't let her send a box of ice cream by parcels post."

SLOGAN IS "ONE FOR EVERY ONE"

Cheerful Cry Adopted In Rowan County In 1911.

JEANETTE BELL ORIGINATOR

Practiced What She Preached on Poor Girl Who Got Behind In Her Studies
on Account of Practical Blindness.
Work Has Not Stopped, Either.

Last winter, when the enthusiasm of the moonlight school campaign was at its height in Rowan county, Miss Jeanette Bell, an official stenographer, decided to adopt and carry out the slogan, "One for every one." She looked about her in Moorehead, the county seat, for some person who was out of school and could not read or write. In the hotel in which she was living she discovered a pupil, Cordie Wilson, who was working as a chambermaid.

When asked about the work she had done for Cordie Wilson, Miss Bell smiled quietly and said: "It wasn't work at all. It was a pleasure, and a very real pleasure too. You see, Cordie was born in Elliott county, and when she was quite young she was almost blind. Of course she did not go to school with the other children, and when her eyes grew better she felt shy about going to school with children so much her junior. This was somewhat accentuated by the fact that she was one of those unfortunate overgrown girls that look almost twice their real age. Today, at fifteen, Cordie looks like seven teen or eighteen.

"At night when, her work about the hotel was done she would come to me with her books and pencil and pad and work like a Turk. Naturally I expected it to take her some time to learn to write and read, but in six nights she could write her name easily and knew how to join all her letters into words. In this same time she had also learned to read well enough to cover the first twenty pages in her first reader. Soon after this she left the hotel and did not come to me any more."

Every vital human movement easily becomes both religious and contagious, and the moonlight school seems to prove the rule. Other counties and communities are taking up the work, and it is hoped that the whole state will realize the value of a school for out of school folks.

In 1911 Rowan county decided to strive to get a number of her schools to open their doors for adults who could not read or write. Grown people do not care for a primer or a first reader, so Rowan county launched a paper, THE ROWAN COUNTY SCHOOL MESSENGER, that the pupils might have a real live paper to read. The first column of the paper, dated Sept. 16, 1912, is as follows:

Can we win?
Win what?
Win the first night school prize.
Of course we can. Just watch us try. And watch us WIN!

We are winners, we are!

Watch us grow. Grow what?
Everything but weeds.

Our district shall win!

Our division must lead!

Let's all go to school. It is good for us. It will make us young again. It will make us more useful. It may start us on the road to greatness.

All night schools in Rowan county started on Monday evening, Sept. 16.

Each will try to have the largest number enrolled, the best attendance each night and the largest graduating class; also each will try to have the oldest pupil.

Rowan county has the finest building stone in the world.

Rowan county will grow the finest fruit in the world.

Harness!

LARGE preparations are being made for the immense crops of oats, corn and tobacco that will be planted within the next three months. The Harness question is a great factor in these crops, hence the good demand that we have for all classes of plow and wagon harness at this season. See what your needs in this line will be and let us show you the excellent values that we have to offer and wherein we can make it to your advantage to buy from us the

Wagon Harness, Plow Harness,

Buggy Harness, Saddles and Bridles, to take care of your part of the planting.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Baby Mine," the success of two continents, direct from its record-breaking eight weeks' engagement at the Majestic Theatre, Boston, will have its first local presentation at Holland's Opera House tonight, under the direction of William A. Brady Ltd. Laughter holding both sides but ill expresses the condition of an audience witnessing "Baby Mine. A young wife, in order to win back the affections of her husband, is persuaded by her friends to adopt heroic measures to bring about the return of the wanderer. Then ensues a series of absurd mistakes and complications, which make the audience roar with delight. Go to the opera house and see how Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Jinks, aided and abetted by the young wife, accomplishes the return of her husband, and if you simply don't scream at the spectacle consult a doctor. "Baby Mine" cannot be dealt with adequately in cold print, it is too funny.—Advertisement.

Brother Defeated.

J. M. Baker, of South Carolina, was nominated by the Senate Democratic caucus for Secretary of the Senate over Joseph L. Wilson, the President's brother, and other aspirants.
